My name is Tyrell McClain. I have been involved with Turner Ranches since 2020. I first started managing Bison herds at the Spikebox Ranch near Mullen, Nebraska. I am now at the McGinley Ranch near Gordon Nebraska. The McGinley Ranch is part of the The Turner Institute of Ecoagriculture an agricultural research organization, operated exclusively for charitable, scientific, and educational purposes. The Institute is primarily engaged in the continuous active conduct of agricultural research in conjunction with several land-grant colleges and universities and with colleges of agriculture.

With a strong background in animal nutrition and research, I try to find balance between the conservation and production goals of the Ranch while also executing research objectives of our valued partners.

I am very excited to be on your board where I can better get to know other bison producers in the Dakota Territories.
